

Welcome to Broadway Classroom's Workshop Website

On this site, we are focused on helping you pair a Broadway show with a Broadway Classroom workshop, creating an unbelievable day for your students. Broadway Classroom is a series of private workshops custom-made for your group and designed to enhance your day on Broadway.

The goal of our program is to inspire. We'll bring the performing arts to life for your students, not only during the workshop, but back in the students' daily lives. The end result is simple: A Broadway experience that your group will never forget!

We'll customize each workshop to meet your goals and the groups' abilities. Your students will have an opportunity to sing with a Broadway performer, practice with a pit musician or take direction from a real Broadway director. And that's just the beginning. Our teaching staff is not only passionate about theatre, but passionate about teaching kids as well.

Workshops are not only for students involved in or pursuing careers in the performing arts, but also for those who are experiencing the arts for the first time. Whether it's a drama class, marching band or science class, every group is welcome!

Since 1998, more than 200,000 students and adults have experienced Broadway Classroom, making us the leader in educational Broadway workshops. But, bigger is only better when it is backed up with the personal customer service necessary to make you feel special and well taken care of. We promise to continue delivering high-quality workshops (including our brand new Acting Shakespeare workshop) and to continue changing lives.

Please take advantage of our newly re-designed and updated to the minute website, and most importantly our group sales consultants. They are hands-down the most knowledgeable and informed Broadway experts that will deliver an unforgettable Broadway experience for your group.

Sincerely,

Vickie Plummer
Broadway Classroom Director

Heather Jones
Broadway Classroom Director